Response to Amendment

The following is in response to the amendment filed on February 25, 2003.

Claims 12-23 are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

As indicated in the previous office action, the prior art does not disclose or suggest a roll box for a roll of a paper machine, whereby the box has a moveable base for transporting the roll, a detachable or raisable cover fitted thereto, devices for securing the roll to the moveable base, and also devices for controlling the temperature and humidity inside the box during transport or storage. Accordingly, the prior art does not teach or suggest a method of storing, handling, or transporting a roll of a paper machine whereby a movable base is made into a roll box and the temperature and humidity conditions inside the box are suitably controlled for the roll. Also, the prior art does not disclose or suggest a method of storing a paper machine roll whereby the roll is contained in an environmentally controlled movable carrier in the vicinity of the operation location, and then transported to the operation location when needed without a crane.

Prior art means of storing paper machine rolls include boxes without control devices for the interior environment and/or large rooms or warehouses having controlled environmental conditions. Rolls stored in this manner require cranes, forklifts, or other large lifting devices for transporting the rolls to the desired location on the paper machine. Prior art moveable carriers for paper machine rolls are used in conjunction with cranes and do not provide for roll storage. The roll box of the present invention also reads over climate controlled tractor trailers or railcars, as these means are not suitably sized for the dimensions of a paper machine roll, nor are they suitable for transport of a roll near a paper machine.

Amended claims 12 and 13 now cite specific method steps for storing, handling, and transporting a roll of a paper machine, therefore the rejection of claims 12 and 13 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph set forth in the previous office action no longer stands. The examiner also acknowledges the amendment to the preamble of claim 21 to conform to that of claim 14.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Priority

Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in Finland on January 13, 1999 (U990013). A certified copy of the foreign application was received on May 8, 2003.
